

What are the steps to change my name AND sex/gender marker in Travis County, Texas?

These instructions are to change your sex/gender identifier and name on Texas state records only. If you want to just change your sex/gender identifier (and not your name), there are separate instructions and forms for that. Note: These forms are intended for use in Travis County, Texas.

The Final Order to Change the Name and Sex/Gender Identifier of an Adult is a court order that tells agencies and departments within the court's jurisdiction to change your name and sex/gender identifier on official documents and licenses. It does not take away any legal rights or responsibilities or debts you had under your original name. It does not grant any new rights. Changing your name and identifier will NOT allow you to escape civil or criminal responsibility of your creditors. You will still be held responsible for any debts you have under your original name.

Step 1. Fill out two forms.

Petition to Change the Name and Sex/Gender Identifier of an Adult. This form asks the judge to order agencies to change your name and identifier on official documents.

- and -

Final Order to Change the Name and Sex /Gender Identifier of an Adult. The judge signs this form to order the agencies to change your name identifier on official documents.

Note: When filling out both the Petition and the Order, use your current name and sex/gender as they appear now on your birth certificate or your social security card.

Where do I get the forms?

You can print forms from the Law Library's website at www.TravisCountyLawLibrary.org.

If you have a low income, you can ask to waive the court filing fees by filing a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form. This form is also on the website.

Step 2. Gather the additional paperwork.

You will need a letter from a mental health professional and/or medical doctor. The letter should state:

- 1, that the writer has examined you,
2. your diagnosis, and
3. that granting a change of gender/sex marker is in your best interest.

You may also need this paperwork:

- A Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form (if you want to ask that filing fees be waived)
- A copy of your certificate of discharge (if you were convicted of a felony and served time in prison)

- A copy of your discharge from felony probation (if you successfully completed probation)
- A copy of your Sex Offender Update Form (if you are required to register as a sex offender)

Step 3. Get your fingerprints taken.

Have your fingerprints taken. You will need the fingerprint card to file with your Petition (or with the Order if you filed your Petition online).

Where do I get my fingerprints taken?

Check with local law enforcement to learn where you can have your fingerprints taken. There is a fee, usually $10 to $20.

In Travis County, you can have your fingerprints taken at Passport Express at 1107 Rio Grande, Austin, Texas 78701.

Do you want your forms reviewed by an attorney?

If you want your forms reviewed by an attorney:

- You can hire a private attorney. There are attorneys in Austin who specialize in LGBT+ legal matters.
- A Law Library Reference Attorney can review your forms at the morning case review clinic (10 a.m. to noon, weekdays, at 314 West 11th, #140).
- The University of Texas Law School holds a legal clinic each semester. The clinic volunteers will help you fill out the paperwork.
<https://law.utexas.edu/probono/projects/special-projects/trans-legal-name-gender-marker-project/>.

Step 4. File your Petition.

In Travis County, file the Petition in the District Clerk's Office, in room 302 of the civil courthouse (at 1000 Guadalupe, Austin, TX, 78701).

You may also file these attachments to your Petition:

- The letter from your mental health professional and/or medical doctor.
- A Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form (if you want to ask that filing fees be waived)
- A copy of your certificate of discharge (if you were convicted of a felony)
- A copy of your discharge from felony probation (if you successfully completed probation)
- A copy of your Sex Offender Update Form (if you are required to register as a sex offender)
- The fingerprint card.

Step 5. Pay the Filing Fee.

You will pay a filing fee of about $300 at the District Clerk's Office. If you have a low income, or are on government benefits because you have a low income, or you cannot pay court fees, you may file a Statement of Inability to Afford Payment of Court Costs form to ask the Court to waive court and filing fees.

Step 6. Learn where and when to go to court.

After you file your Petition, go to the Court Administrator's Office on the fourth floor of the courthouse. The Court Administrator's Office schedules court hearings.

When you get to the Court Administrator's Office, ask for Jacob or Warren. They will help you schedule a time to speak with a judge or go to short hearing.

The phone number for the Court Administrator's Office is 512-854-2484.

Step 7. Show your papers to the judge.

When you meet with the judge, make sure you have:

- A copy of your Petition and fingerprint card
- A copy of your letter from the mental health professional and/or medical doctor
- The Final Order to Change the Gender and sex Identifier which you filled out (except for the judge's signature)
- A copy of your order discharging probation (if you were on felony probation)
- A copy of your TDCJ discharge certificate (if you were convicted of a felony and served time in prison)
- A copy of your Sex Offender notification form (if you are required to register as a sex offender)
- Any other supporting documentation you might think helpful. Examples include birth certificates and passports

If you are sworn in, the judge may ask you questions. Be prepared to answer the judge's questions truthfully and briefly. Address the judge as "Your Honor."

If the judge signs the order, move on to the next step. If the judge does not sign the Order, your gender identifier will not change at that time. You may be able to return to court with additional evidence at a later date to continue your request.

Step 9. Get certified copies of the Order.

Go to the District Clerk's Office in room 103. The Clerk's Office stamps the Order signed by the judge. Ask for a certified copy of the signed and stamped Order. Pay the fee for the certified copy. You will need certified copies to prove that the Court ordered the identifier and name change. You may want to get at least 3 certified copies.

Step 10. Notify.

Notify the various agencies of your name and identifier change. You may be required to show them a certified copy of your court order. Agencies to notify include the:

- Social Security Administration
- Vital Statistics (birth certificates)
- Department of Public Safety (driver's license)
- Tax Office (vehicle and voter registration) and
- County Clerk's Office (property titles)
- Passport Office

Questions: Gender Marker and Name Change

Q. Who can use these forms?

A: This form is intended for use by people who want to change their name and the sex on their public documents to match their gender identity. If you want to change your gender marker only, and not your name, there are separate forms for that.

Q. Can I change my name and gender/sex marker on public documents without going to court?

A: No. In Texas, you need a court order. Judges have discretion to either grant or deny your request.

Q: Is surgery or other medical treatment or procedure required before I can change my gender/sex marker?

A: No, surgery is not required by Texas law. What is required is a narrative statement from your doctor and/or therapist that says:

- You have received a diagnosis of Gender Dysphoria (or other diagnosis).
- You have received appropriate treatment for your diagnosis.
- It is in your best interest (it is recommended) that your sex and/or gender marker be changed in public records to be consistent with your identity and presentation.

It is helpful if the statement includes:

- The length of time the doctor/therapist has been treating you.
- A description of your diagnosis and a prognosis.

In exercising their discretion to grant sex/gender marker changes, judges often look to the Current Standards of Care \(SOC\) established by the World Professional Association for Transgender Health (WPATH). For more information on these standards see http://www.wpath.org/site_page.cfm?pk_association_webpage_menu=1352&pk_association_webpage=3947

Q: Can I change my gender/sex marker to non-binary or some other identity that is neither male or female (M or F)?

A: No. Texas law does not recognize non-binary, third gender or gender fluid as an acceptable entry for sex or gender that is printed on state identification documents.

Q: Will my identity documents automatically be updated once the court enters an order?

A: No. Getting an order is just the first step of the process of correcting your name and/or gender marker on your ID documents. You will need to contact the issuing authority for each type of ID and present a certified copy of the court order when you ask for a change. You can get a certified copy of the order signed by the judge from the District Clerk's Office, room 302.

Although the order is a binding order of a Texas district court of general jurisdiction, it is not an absolute guarantee that state entities will immediately adjust your gender marker in accordance with the order.

Q: Will my child's name automatically change when I change my name?

A: No. Changing a child's name is a different process and requires different forms.

Q: Do I have to submit a set of my fingerprints with my petition?

A: Yes. You are required to submit a set of your fingerprints on a fingerprint card with your petition. The statute about fingerprints can be found at Texas Family Code, Section 45.102(a)6.

Q: I was convicted of a crime; can I still change my name?

A: All offenses charged above a Class C misdemeanor must be listed in the Petition. Include the case number and court of each offense.

There are special requirements if you were convicted of a felony or of a sex offense. (See Texas Family Code 45.103.)

For felonies:

- If you served time in prison for a felony, you must wait two years from the date listed on your certificate of discharge. Get a copy of your certificate of discharge from the Classification and Records division of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Attach it to your petition.
- If you were on felony probation, you must wait two years from the date you successfully completed probation. Get a copy of your certificate of successful completion of probation from the District Clerk of the county where you were prosecuted and attach it to your petition.

A registered sex offender must first notify the local law enforcement office of the proposed name change. Attach a copy of the written notification form to the name change petition. To get the Sex Offender Update Form, contact the local law enforcement office where you are registered.

Q: I was convicted of a felony; how do learn my SID (State Identification) or FBI number?

Contact the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to learn your SID or FBI number at 512-406-5202 or at 1-800-535-0283.

Q: Will the name on my birth certificate, driver's license, and social security card change?

You are responsible for notifying the appropriate agencies of your new name. Social Security, Department of Public Safety (driver's license) and Vital Statistics Unit (birth certificate) will require you to show a certified copy of your court order.

Q: Where can I read the name change laws?

The Texas laws about name changes are in the Texas Family Code, sections 45.101 to 45.106.
